Lack of Optimism Experienced on Monday Is Ascribed to Supposed New Developments in Lusitania Case.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEANED WIRE
New York, Feb. 8.—Much of the optimism which affected a general elevation of prices yesterday was lacking today an upward swing. As a result, prices at the close, although unsettled, were 1% to 2% higher than net highest with May at $1.30 1/2 @ 2% and July at $1.28 1/2. Other leading staples now showed gains—corn 1 1/2 c to 1 1/4 @ 2%, oats 1 1/2 c to 2%, and provisions 1 1/2 c to 2 1/2 c.

Estimates of wheat bought in the United States today for shipment to Europe amounted to 1,500,000 bushels, not including 1,500,000 bushels recently taken at Portland, Ore., and not heretofore announced. It was evident almost from the start that European buying nearly certain to reach a liberal total would be in order. The first sign was that Liverpool quotations came virtually unchanged notwithstanding yesterday's sharp break in values here. There were also dispatches later saying that scarcity of supplies in Great Britain continued despite the fact that London was paying the highest prices yet on the 1915 crop. Besides the world's available stock showed a notable falling off as against a substantial increase at the corresponding time last year, and there were advices that Greece was attempting to purchase 1,500,000 bushels.

Corn ascended with wheat and as a result of assertions that foreign countries were after corn, especially Sweden, Denmark and Holland. Favorable weather eased the market at the outset, but the influence was only transient.

Oats took the course of other grain, export sales of 400,000 bushels helped the advance.

Active demand for lard put firmness into the provisions market, and much more than overcame an early setback for pork. Foreigners were said to have done at least some of the buying of lard.

Closing prices:

Wheat—May, $1.30 1/2; July, $1.22 1/2; Corn—May, 75 1/2c; July, 77 1/2c; Oats—May, 49c; July, 48c; Pork—May, $20.47; July, $20.65; Lard—May, $10.15; July, $10.30; Ribs—May, $11.10; July, $11.25.
